THE DIRECTORY OF THE UNITED NATIONS IS AN EXCEPTIONAL GUIDE TO UN AGENCIES AND OFFICES WORLDWIDE

The United Nations (UN) is an international organization whose stated aims are facilitating cooperation in international law, international security, economic development, social progress, human rights, and the achieving of world peace. The UN was founded in 1945 to replace the League of Nations, to stop wars between countries, and to provide a platform for dialogue. It contains multiple subsidiary organizations to carry out its missions.

There are currently 195 member states, including nearly every sovereign state in the world. The Directory of the United Nations is the definitive guide to the dozens of agencies, institutes, commissions, offices, funds and organizations of the UN, and the people in authority throughout the United Nations network. All the top decision-makers are included in this one-volume publication, which details the U.N. and its specialised agencies.

Entries in the Directory of the United Nations include:

- * The institute's name
- * Postal, Internet and e-mail addresses
- * Telephone and fax numbers
- * Details of its function, activities, geographical area of activity
- * Key officials and executives

The Directory of the United Nations will be an essential resource for any library serving readers with global interests, including secondary schools, public libraries, colleges and universities, government agencies, and nongovernmental organizations.
