

GLOBAL RARE EARTH DIRECTORY 2022

The most comprehensive annual guide to the world's Rare Earths mining companies and traders!

Rare-earth ore deposits are found all over the world. The major ores are in China, the United States, Australia, and Russia, while other viable ore bodies are found in Canada, India, South Africa, and Southeast Asia. The major minerals contained in these ore bodies are bastnasite (fluorocarbonate), monazite (phosphate), loparite, and laterite clays.

Global Rare Earths Directory contains detailed and up to date company information for miners, producers and traders of Rare Earths. Wherever you sit in the Rare Earths supply chain, this directory is an essential business tool!

Buyers, Suppliers or Customers can easily be found by purchasing the Global Rare Earths Directory.

Published annually, the Global Rare Earths Directory has been completely re-researched. Each company, old and new, has been contacted individually to ensure the information contained in the new edition is accurate and up-to-date. For just US $275.00 you can have fast, easy access to the most up-to-date and comprehensive industry guide around, saving you hours of time when sourcing a new supplier, buyer or simply trying to re-establish a business relationship.

Contact and Company Information

This new edition of the Global Rare Earths Directory lists producers and traders of Rare Earths worldwide and includes:

- full contact details for companies and key personnel in the industry, including phone, fax, email and web address;
- ownership, subsidiaries, associates and branch office details;
